147 THE LITTLE FORGE.

v[a]. The butterfly, in outline only, is at lower left, and the tree at the right, in the window, is larger. Short perpendicular lines are added to the left edge of the bench below the window, and slanting lines to the left of the man's knee. There are new lines immediately over the stooping man at the right, and under the left arm of the man at the anvil. M. Knoedler & Co.
